TRADES TRAINING BC LAUNCHES NEW WEBSITE

Real-time schedules help British Columbians find the right Trades Training program.

Trades Training BC has launched a redesigned website for British Columbians interested in a career in the trades. The new site provides access to pertinent information and program schedules so British Columbians can find the right training, in the right location at times that work for them. The site, www.TradesTrainingBC.ca, includes schedules from all fourteen public, post-secondary trades training providers that are members of Trades Training BC.

Site visitors can access more than 130 real-time schedules for apprenticeship, foundation, youth and vocational trades training programs at more than 60 locations throughout BC. Whether someone wants to be an electrician, machinist, cook or hairstylist, or any of the 80 other available trades programs in BC, they can all be found on the new site. There is also the option to search by map to see what programs are offered close to home.

BC's Ministry of Jobs, Tourism and Innovation recently released the second edition of the B.C. Labour Market Outlook. This report indicates that over one million job openings are expected in BC over the next ten-year period and 78 per cent of those openings will require some post-secondary education or training. In fact, the largest area of demand, 42 per cent of all openings, will be Technical, Paraprofessional and Skilled Occupations. These high-demand jobs typically require a College or Trade certification.

"BC needs more people with trades training and these skilled workers are needed in all areas of the province. We've designed the TradesTrainingBC.ca site to help meet this challenge. Students can find out what's available, where it's offered and when it starts regardless of where they live in BC. We want to help new students, and those looking to re-train, find the information they need to start a career in trades" states Don Wright, Chair of Trades Training BC.

Trades Training BC is a consortium of 14 public, post-secondary educational institutions created to promote trades training in British Columbia. Trades Training BC's primary function is to encourage students and others considering career re-training to explore trades as a viable career option. To learn more about trades training in BC, please visit Trades Training BC.

SEA SNAKE

Fearing snakes is more than a phobia. Deadly snakes are a reality. Their environments include land as well as the ocean. The sea snake evolved from the Australian land snake and is closely related to the cobra. It is a venomous reptile that lives in warm waters and tropical areas, from the Indian Ocean to the Pacific.

Their venom is one of the most powerful neurotoxins in the world. The bite is painless but symptoms such as spasms, stiffness and even respiratory paralysis occur within an hour. Although they won't attack unless provoked, they can become more aggressive in the mating season. Their poison is more potent than that of land snakes.
